

Functions in Excel 2007

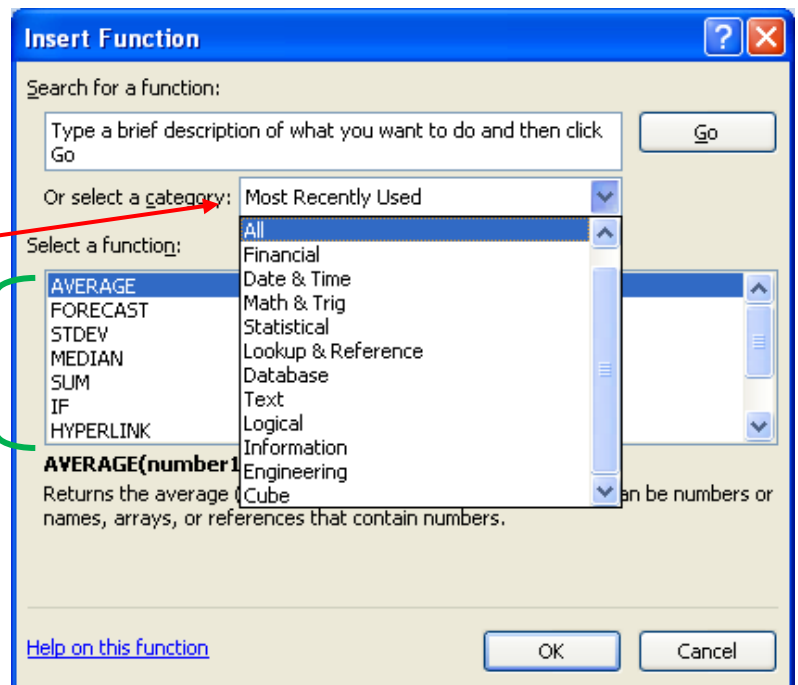

There is a special Function Button on the Formula Bar

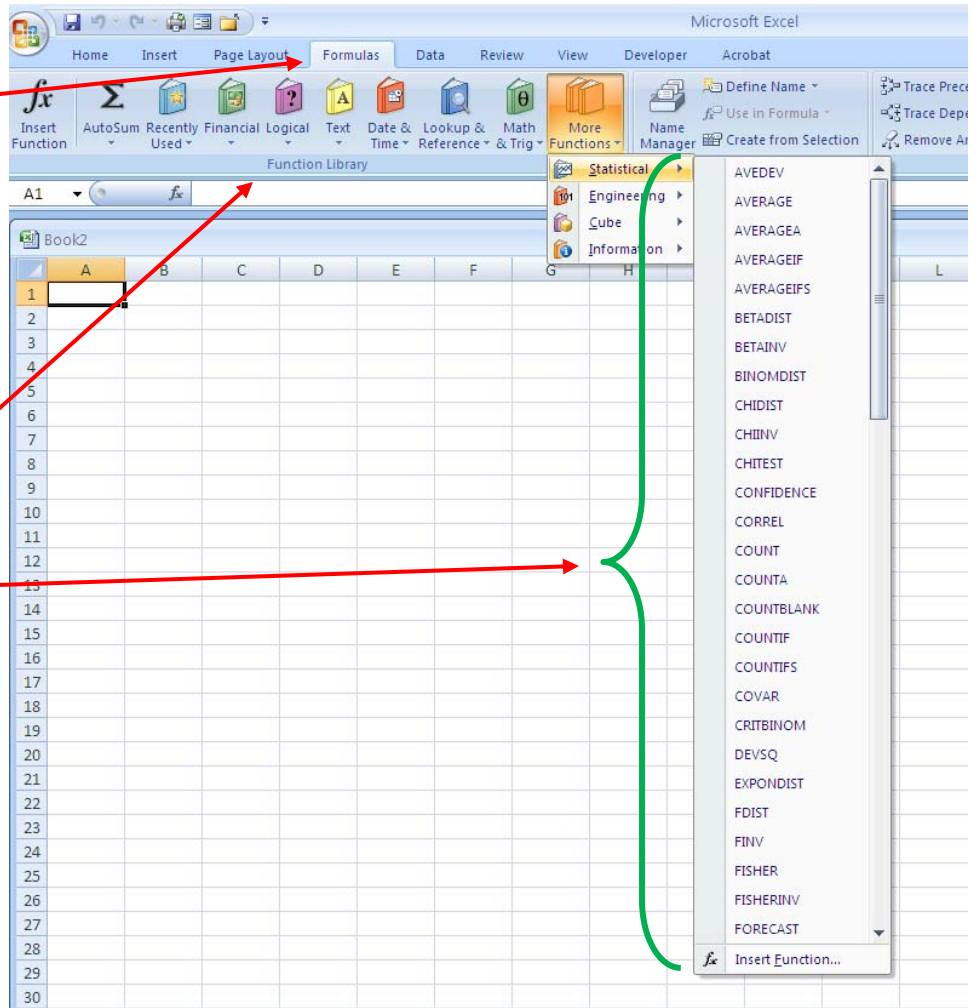

Pressing the Function Button brings up the Insert Function window

Select the appropriate category

You will have several functions available pertaining to what category you choose

Another way to see formulas is to click the Formulas tab

In the Function Library Group, choose your correct Category and then your Formula from the list

